MISCELLANEOUS.

RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS, It appears to be for the best interest of the Democratic party in this county that the holding of the primary election heretofore ordered, should be postponed and that the Democratic electors of this county should express to this Committee their preference as to the manner of nominating candidates for the several offices in said order named; now therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Democratic County Central Committee in and for Los Angeles county, as follows:

1st. That the action of this Committee at the meeting thereof held on the 31st day of June, 1875, so far as the same relates to the holding of a primary election in this county at that time ordered to be held on the 7th day of July, 1875, be and the same is, hereby rescinded and repealed, and that the holding of said election be, and the same is, hereby indefinitely postponed.

2d. That a meeting of this Committee be held on the 24th day of July, 1875, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, for the purpose of then determining what action shall be taken for the nomination of candidates for Legislative and local offices, and that the Democratic electors of this county be, and the same is, hereby requested to signify by petition in writing to this Committee their preference as to the best mode to be adopted for the nomination of candidates for said offices.

3d. That the Secretary of this Committee be, and he is, hereby instructed to certify to the passage of this resolution, have the same published in the Los Angeles DAILY HERALD and forward a copy thereof to each of the Judges of Election appointed for holding the said primary election.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, } ss.
County of Los Angeles, }
I, HENRY C. RYAN, the foregoing resolution was passed and adopted by the Democratic County Central Committee in and for Los Angeles county, at a meeting thereof held on the 14th day of July, A. D. 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The steamer Abbottford is ashore at Combs' wharf, Wales. She has leaked over and sunk.

At a meeting of the Rev. Mr. Banks of the City Temple, London, Mr. Shannon delivered an address defending Henry Ward Beecher. A letter from President Fletcher, of the Episcopal Commission, says that from the evidence gathered in New York it seems to him that the supplies and annuity goods shipped from the East for the Indians were of the quantities and qualities according to the samples.

There is nothing from the missing balloon. Little hope is entertained that its passengers will ever be heard from.

Donahoe, the pedestrian, who has been walking at Boston, has completed his task of walking 1,100 miles in 1,100 hours.

The excitement over breadstuffs in London is abating.

A San Francisco special says that Price McGraw, the well-known turf man, has used Wilkes, of the Spirit of the Times, for $25,000 for a libelous article entitled "The Mammoth Man Trap." Wilkes has been arrested and confined, being unable to get bail.

It has rained in Ohio twenty-seven days in succession. Crops are badly damaged, corn in many places being drowned out.

Secretary Fish has information that an association of counterfeiters, with their headquarters at Barcelona, Spain, are preparing to issue in New York city twelve million dollars in counterfeit notes of the Bank of England and Bank of France.

The Winthrop, Maine, National Bank was robbed yesterday morning. The robbers did not get away with much money.

The weaver's strike at Brun has closed.

The Auditor of the State of Louisiana has resigned.

A Cincinnati man fell from a window of the Mountain House, Baltimore, yesterday, and was instantly killed.

Pittsall, of the House of Commons, has published his protest against the Shipping Bill.

If we should attempt to predict what our eloquent young friend Tom Fitch would say in his speech this evening, we should say that the Southern Pacific Railroad would come in for a good sound scolding. Senator Jones will be eulogized, and Houghton, Republican candidate for Congress, will be whitewashed until he will look as clean and nice as a new board fence. If Tom does not make a first-class Republican speech, with Houghton as the central figure, we are mistaken in the purpose for which he takes the rostrum.

Somewhat Mixed.

Our friend BIDWELL has not a good memory, and this little defect is involving him in a labyrinth of trouble. In his speech delivered in Platt's Hall, San Francisco, a short time ago, he said:

In 1867, when the Hon. Mr. Gorham was running for Governor, a gentleman came to me and told me that if I did not go into the campaign and make speeches for him, he would expose my fraudulent land case. I sent word to that man to do his best. I would deny, defy, spurn and scorn him.

This does not read well in connection with the fact that when GORHAM ran for Governor he made a speech in Chicago at which BIDWELL presided and asked his people to vote for GEORGE. Worse still, The Sacramento Union of August 24, 1867, contains a letter written by BIDWELL dated Chico, July 24, 1867, in which he declined to accept the nomination tendered him by the anti-GORHAM wing of the Republicans, and closed with this paragraph:

A new ticket cannot be submitted at this late hour with any certainty of success. We must then stand by this [the Gorham] ticket or let the Copperheads take the State. I say, therefore, to my friends everywhere, let us rally and prevent such a calamity by taking the only course that seems within our power. Let us demand that the State authorities shall not be increased; that the property of the State shall be preserved for the benefit of the people; the State for the Nation; and the Nation for the cause of freedom and humanity.

Route of the L. A. & I. R. R.

There is some little dissatisfaction expressed by citizens who have taken stock in the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad, over the prospect that the road will not pass through this city. If we are correctly informed as to the intended line of survey, the road will just touch the Southwest corner of the corporation limits. If this is correct, the distance from the center of the city to the road will be a little over two miles. This is a long way to haul freight and will add materially to the cost of transportation. The San Pedro street railway company will soon have their road completed to the depot, which will to a great extent do away with the inconvenience to passengers, but for freight purposes the track will be too far out of town to ensure cheap lumber or any other freight. It was generally understood that the road would pass through the city and up the Arroyo Seco. This would have made it a great convenience to the city; but the route now determined upon is not received with favor by our people. The indications are that the track will pass a short distance Southwest of the race track, through the Laguna ranch, cross the San Gabriel river on the property of Mr. Temple and thence on through the Monte. The graders have, we are informed, already crossed the Los Angeles river on this route, and we presume there will be no change in the survey. So, after all, the Santa Monica railroad will not be much of a Los Angeles road. We hear it rumored that a town will be laid out on the Laguna ranch and also one at the crossing of the San Gabriel river.

Mr. Wigginton and the Express.

The Evening Express of this city claims to be an independent journal. It is owned by a joint stock company and the stockholders put their money in it with the positive understanding that it should be conducted on a non-political basis and in no case to become the organ of an individual, ring, clique or corporation. How well it sticks to its text—how closely it adheres to the compact of the stockholders—its readers are well able to decide. We pass over the evidence furnished by itself that it is the organ of a party of land speculators. But we cannot pass in silence its unwarranted and unjust attacks on Mr. P. D. WIGGINGTON, Democratic Candidate for Congress from this district. If anything could be urged against Mr. WIGGINGTON's record, if he was incompetent, if he was wanting in integrity or ability, and the Express commented on his shortcomings, we should not say a word in response. But nothing of this kind can be urged against him, and this high toned independent journal, that is always bemoaning the coarseness of its cotemporaries, after admitting that it does not know Mr. WIGGINGTON's name, proceeds to ridicule it. This is simply despicable, and we regret that so worthy a gentleman should be made the subject of attack, because his name does not happen to be so euphonious as LYNN or JONES or AYERS. P. D. WIGGINGTON is the name of a gentleman, than whom there is not a more eloquent, intelligent or honest man in this District. That he will be triumphantly elected to Congress, we have not the remotest doubt, despite the coarse pleasantries of our evening cotemporary.

Political Bitterness.

The campaign opens bitter, sharp and decisive. The leading speakers are handling each other without gloves and the record of the three candidates for Governor is distorted and twisted to conform to the views of those who wish them to appear bad or good. So far the criminalization and recrimination business has been mainly confined to the contending forces of the Republicans and Independents. It is a family quarrel and they say such quarrels are the most acrimonious and vindictive of all quarrels. If PHILIPS is one half as bad a man as the Independent speakers make him, he is unfit for the position of town beadle, much less that of Governor of a State. If BIDWELL is the narrow-minded questionably honest old gentleman that GORHAM and others would have their hearers believe, he is better fitted for an overseer in his satanic majesty's domain than to sit in the gubernatorial chair of the State of California. Wm. IRWIN, the Democratic candidate for Governor comes in for a large share of misrepresentation and abuse from the Bulletin, but from the stamp he refutes everything and stands well wherever he goes. The campaign is opening a little too hot. This wholesale dealing in personalities by candidates is to be regretted. It is true that the public record of public men is public property, and their official acts are legitimate subjects for comment and discussion, but there is no necessity for preferring unfounded charges and the bandying of coarse epithets. Tone down a little, gentlemen. You are not advancing your own chances nor diminishing those of your opponents by resorting to bitter invective and vehement denunciations. Let us have more argument and debate and less attack and malignity.

EASTERN NEWS.

The Lee Trial.

BEAVER, Utah, July 23.—The jury in the Lee trial has been finally sworn in. It consists of eight Mormons and four Gentiles. The case is being sworn in to take charge of them. The first witness will be called this morning, and the excitement is intense. The defense say they care little how the case goes, relying on an appeal to the Supreme Court on two points. First—the failure to endorse the presentment of the indictment in Court. Second—the July term of the Court is illegal.

The Boys have to Put Up.

CHICAGO, July 23.—A Washington special says the Congressional Committee has collected thousands of dollars in the name of the Committee on the ground that it has no legal existence. It was appointed by the Forty-Third Congress and no longer exists. Until the meeting of the Forty-Fourth Congress, and another appointment by it, there will be no legal existence. The men who are at present robbing clerks in the name of the Republican Party are no more authorized to do what they do than ordinary highwaymen. The assessors have as yet, while the officers have been objecting to their demands. The exposure in relation to the standing of the Committee make them fearful that a good honest prosecution against them by men who had nothing officially would land them in the penitentiary.

The Times on a Revival of Business.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The Times, commenting on the grain excitement in England, says there is no doubt but that the present aspect of the cereal crops in England and on the continent is favorable to an increased demand for the American products and that it is natural to look forward to the revival of trade as a legitimate consequence. If this demand will tend to such a revival there is no question but it is too soon yet to define with any degree of certainty how far its influence will extend, or how it will be counteracted by other circumstances. A healthy and steady demand for our cereals abroad will be an immense benefit to the whole country, and it is quite possible to destroy a considerable part of this benefit by hasty and incautious speculative transactions.

Cuba Attracting Attention.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—There were some important conversations, at the Cabinet session on Wednesday, relative to the condition of affairs in Cuba, and the duty of the United States in the premises about which the President and members of the Cabinet refuse to say much. This Cabinet meeting gives general significance to a double-leaded editorial in the National Republican this morning, headed "Shall Cuba be Free?" referring to the generous policy of this government, the treaty and the efforts of Spain to put down the rebellion. The end is not yet reached.

The freedom loving people of this country have been virtually forced to maintain the armies which have been sent into the field in the vain endeavor to overcome the rebellion. In other words, free Americans have been compelled to pay tribute to the revival of the slave system in Cuba. Meanwhile, immunity from adequate punishment, for numerous infringements of international law, and violations of the laws of civilized warfare, has emboldened the Spaniards to assume an impudent disregard of the plainest demands of diplomatic intercourse.

Draws His Balance.

LYNCHBURG, VA., July 23.—The news says an attorney arrived there last week with power from Ambrose R. Woodruff, alias Miller, to draw his balance from the banking house of Woodruff & Spence. He had previously sent money to the firm to pay certain contracts contracted prior to his hurried flight from Lynchburg in 1869.

Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—Wool quiet and firm, supply good. Medium and combing in best demand. California and medium, 28@29; coarse, 26@30.

Gold and Stocks.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Gold closed at 121@123. Money easy, 1 1/2@2. Government bonds dull and steady. Pacific Mail, 38 1/2; Panama, 130; Quicksilver, 13 1/2; Western Union, 80 1/2.

Steamer Sunk.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The ship Lahore, from New Orleans, reports July 16th, six miles South of Frying Pan Shoals light-house, the ship was lost with three main-headers of a large steamer sunk.

To Succeed the Lost Steamer.

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—The steamer City of Liverpool has been secured to take the place of the Abbottford, lost on the coast of Wales, and will sail from Liverpool on Wednesday next. By this arrangement, the sailing of the American line will proceed without interruption. The Abbottford was fully insured in Great Britain and France, and the freight in this country and Europe. Her cargo was large.

Gold in New York.

NEW YORK, July 23.—There was a heavy feeling developed in gold on the Exchange this morning and the first sales were at 121 1/2, and 122 1/2 at the close last evening. After this a steady decline until the price reached 111 1/2. There was some excitement among speculators, but no failures have been announced, although several operators are said to be crippled severely. Outside dealers, who have been buying gold since it declined to 112, hoping for a reaction, are the principal losers. The highest price today was 112 1/2, at opening, and the low was 111 1/2, which was made specially before noon. About 2 o'clock gold began to recover from these low quotations, and advanced from 111 1/2 to 112 1/2, which was the closing price.

Important Land Decision.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Secretary of the Interior has reversed his decision of the Commissioner of the General Land Office in the case of Robert M. Stewart vs. the Western Pacific Railroad Company, involving land within the claimed limits of the Magalloway decision, granted by the Supreme Court in 1865, after the withdrawal for the railroad company on a map of its general route, but prior to its definite location. Stewart settled in 1855, prior to the passage of the railroad act. The Secretary follows the same decision in the case of Dillingham et al., holding that the act of March 30, 1873, granting rights to settlers on rejected foreign grants, had no reference to California, but that lands in that State are governed by a special act subsequently passed by the same Congress, extending the act of Dillingham et al., holding that the act of March 30, 1873, granting rights to settlers on rejected foreign grants, had no reference to California, but that lands in that State are governed by a special act subsequently passed by the same Congress, extending
